Vocabulary Constabulary

Are you a good detective? The Vocabulary Constabulary needs your help.

You can often detect the meaning of a word or phrase by reading it in context, that is, by reading the other words around it in a piece of text. Find the page, article or paragraph in TPP and then detect the word or phrase that solves the clue to its meaning. The number of letters and the starting letter of the solution are in brackets after each clue.

High Harpist (Page 4)

Limerick harpist Siobhán Brady hopes to brake her own Guinness World Record (GWR) for the highest-altitude harp performance. With a team, she will travell to Tanzania to climb Mount Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain in Africa (5,895 meters above sea level). They will carry two 10 kg harps on the seven-day hike, in case one gets damaged. She'll play Ed Sheeran's 'Little Bird' on the summitt.

Her previous record was set in 2018 at the Singla Pass, India (over 4877 metres). So, what's the point of breaking her own record? Musican Desmond Gentle acheived the 2018 record with her. 'Ten days after we came back, Desmond died from thrombosis at the age of 69,' Siobhán says, 'but the week before he died, he said he wanted to do this on Kilimanjaro, so we're doing it in his memory.'

Funds raised will go to Cystic Fibrosis Ireland. Galway woman Caroline Heffernan will also be on the clime. She has lived with cystic fibrosis since the age of 13 and wants to encourage young people with CF to try and achieve the 'seemingly impossible'.

Sudan Evacuation (Page 5)

Almost 200 Irish citizens and their families working in Sudan urgently needed to be evacuated in Aperl because of the outbreak of conflict in the country, with fighting going on day and night. Hospitals and banks were closed, so people couldn't get medickal aid or withdraw their money, and there were food shortages.

A team of Irish Army Ranger Wing troops and goverment officials traveled there to help them get out of the country.

Citizens were flown out on military flights organised by freindly countries. These were the lucky ones. But some – like Montasia Ismail, an Irish student studying there – took matters into their own hands and travelled by bus to neighboring countries like Egypt, a long and horendous journey through the dessert. Sometimes the buses broke down and the passengers had no food or water.

The fighting in Sudan began in the middle of April because of a power struggle between the two main factions of the military regime. Between them, they are destroying they're country – and we must pity the poor Sudanese people, many of whom, like the foreigners, are trying to get across the borders to safety.

Cart Away a Classic Car! (Page 6)

Ad Palmen is now 82, and he secretly started collecting cars in the Netherlands about 40 years ago. Mr. Palmen's collection had reeched 230 vehicles when ill health caused him to sell all the cars to a gallery for an undisclosed figure. They will go up for online auction begining this May.

What kinds of cars will collectors find? Ferraris, Maseratis, Jaguars, Alfa Romeos, and BMWs, to name just a few. True the years, they were kept in three seperate buildings in the Netherlands, including a disused church. Most of them are in their original condition but will need a servise before the new owners drive them away. The cars are all covered in dust, and some are also covered in sut from a small fire in one of the warehouses last year.

What's so unusual about this collection? Mr. Palmen lived like a hermit. His neighbours had no idea about the extent of his car collection. He never drove them and refused to let others look in his buildings. However, this group of cars is unique for another reason. Most people who collect automobeels purchase a certain type of car. Palmen bought whatever beauty he liked at the time and tucked it away. Cars were his life, and he even lived wit them in the warehouse.

Many of the cars are expected to sell for high prices. For example, a Lancia B4 Spider America will probaly sell for over €750,000. This car is very rare because only a few were made.

Napoleone di Buonaparte was born on August 15, 1769, in the city of Ajaccio on the island of Corsica, off the _____ (1) of Italy. He changed his name to Napoleon Bonaparte when he was a young man in order to sound more French. His family were not well off and he was sent to military school in France at the age of ten. When he was _____ (2), he became an officer in the French army.

Napoleon was in Corsica during the French Revolution in the late 1780s and early 1790s. When he came back to Paris, he joined a rebel _____ (3) called the Jacobins. He helped to drive the British out of the city of Toulon in 1793 and was _____ (4) in the army.

In 1796 he was put in charge of the French army in Italy when they were being _____ (5) by the Austrians. He was a brilliant general and soon won many _____ (6) by clever tactics. He drove the Austrians out of Italy and returned to France as a hero.

In 1799 Napoleon formed a new _____ (7) called the Consulate. There were to be three consuls in charge. Napoleon gave himself the title of First Consul and he became the leader of _____ (8).

He changed some French laws and set up the Napoleonic Code. The code said that people would get important government jobs only if they were good enough. In the _____ (9), these jobs went to people who were related to the rulers. He set up schools, built roads and improved business. However, he took away some of the rights which had been given to women after the Revolution. In 1804 Napoleon crowned himself _____ (10) of France.

My coat is reddish-brown with white bands running across my back. This helps to _____ (6) me from foxes, snakes, lizards, dingoes, cats and dogs. If these _____ (7) get close to me, I just freeze on the spot and if that doesn't work, I get out of there quickly. I can run at speeds of up to 25km/h, and I dive into a hollow log or a burrow for safety.

Did I mention that I love to eat termites? I hunt them when they come close to the top of their mounds. I use my long, pointed _____ (8) to sniff them out and my sharp _____ (9) to dig for them. I have a long, narrow _____ (10) which is covered with saliva and the tasty termites stick to it. I eat up to 20,000 of these delicious insects a day.

The tallest tropical tree in the _____ (1) was discovered, climbed and measured in April 2019. It was found in the Danum Valley Conservation Area in Sabah, a Malaysian state on the _____ (2) of Borneo. The yellow meranti tree is 100.8 m tall and has been named Menara which is the Malaysian word for tower.

Yellow meranti forests in the area were laser scanned from the air in 2018. Scientists from English _____ (3) at Nottingham and Oxford built up 3D images of the treetops and picked out the really tall trees. However, the trees are measured the old-fashioned way – someone must _____ (4) to the top and drop a measuring tape to the ground below.

Unding Jami, a research assistant with the South East Asia Rainforest Research Partnership, climbed to the top of Menara on January 6, 2019. The climb took three _____ (5) to complete and Unding had to battle strong winds and heavy rain as he approached the top. 'It was scary and windy, but honestly the view from the top was _____ (6). I don't know what to say other than it was very, very, very amazing,' Unding said.

Yellow meranti trees are a highly endangered species. They continue to be cut down in huge numbers in Malaysia with their _____ (7) often used to make moulds for pouring concrete and for plywood. This affects the environment as each tree is home to over 1,000 insects, _____ (8) and other plant species.

Interesting Facts

The Danum Valley Conservation Area protects Borneo's _____ (9) orangutans, clouded leopards and forest elephants.

The tallest tree in the world at present is called Hyperion. It is a giant sequoia, is just over 115 m tall and is in Redwood National Park in _____ (10), USA.

Drama Time

Each month, we invite you and your class to base your drama lesson on a theme from The Primary Planet.

This month, we are turning our attention to the news section, both national and world news, as a starting point. We challenge you to create a short piece of drama, involving an array of characters, to demonstrate one of the news stories covered. To help you, should you need it, we have provided some ideas below.

Idea 1: Pretend that you are a member of the secret service, tasked with protecting the president from potential harm. What sort of things are you looking out for? How do you stay inconspicuous?

Idea 2: What could you collect secretly like Ad Palmen did? What lengths would you go to, to keep your collection a secret? Show your class, through mime and see if they can figure it out.

Idea 3: Imagine you are one of the people that works with Toki the orca. What sort of things do you need to put into place to prepare her for her return to the wild?

Idea 4: Design a new version of your school. Take into consideration the things that Róisín Heneghan talks about in her interview; things like lines with the horizon and uses for the building.

Idea 5: Design and perform a short drama about peer pressure with a group. Consider the points from page 27 of this month's issue and construct the drama to show both the right and the wrong choices facing the main character.

Have Your Say

Based on articles from this month's mag, we want you to think about some of the issues that arise. Remember, when you are trying to put forward an opinion, or an argument, make sure you know your facts and figures and be clear in how you feel about a certain topic and why. Here are some questions and statements you and your class might like to consider thinking about and discussing. Some you will agree with, some you clearly won't!

Anyone can be good at darts if they practise.

GAA players are tougher than soccer players.

Children should be paid to go to the dentist.

People should have to pass a test to have a pet.

Schools should all have after school clubs for fun.

RTÉ should not air coverage of the coronation of Charles III.

Books should not be made into movies.

Music should be played all day in school.

Snakes are scarier than Zombies.

Is it ever OK to steal?

Toki should never have been locked up in the first place!

Red sauce is better than brown sauce.

Did You Know?

Every issue of your Primary Planet is packed full of facts and figures. Why not record the top 4 things that you learned from this issue. When you do, make sure to create an illustration to go with each one. When you are finished, share and discuss your choices with your classmates. We have added our favourite one below. You'll see I didn't just copy it from TPP, I wrote it out in my own words. Always a great idea when doing a project.

Did You Know?

When the Egyptian government decided to build the Grand Egyptian Museum (GEM), they held a competition to find the architects to design it. There were 1,557 entrants from 82 countries in the competition for this prestigious job. In the end an Irish firm, Heneghan Peng Architects, were chosen. What a wonderful achievement for the company and what a wonderful design they produced for GEM!

What's in the News?

How well have you read The Primary Planet this month? Here, in 'What's in the News', as well as testing your memory and retention skills, we also test your imagination and creative skills. This activity is based on our National and International news sections. Read the articles and answer the following questions.

1. Read the article 'A Great Day for Scotland?'. Do you agree with the views of the protesters, or the views of the people involved in horse racing about the Grand National. Give reasons for your answer.
2. Read the article 'RIP Bród'. Compose an email you would send to President Michael D. Higgins following the loss of his dog Bród.
3. Read the article 'Sudan Evacuation'. Imagine you were one of the Irish people trying to get out of Sudan in April. Write some diary entries describing your situation. Begin each entry with the words Dear Diary.
4. Read the article 'Ancient Scoreboard'. Use your research skills to find and record (in your own words) some facts you learned about the game of pelota.
5. Read the article 'Carly's Garden Recovery'. Design a poster to advertise a fund-raising event to help restore Carly's Garden.
6. Read the article 'High Harpist'. Write a short article about your favourite musician, singer, band or musical group.
7. Read the article 'Kids Tackle Biden'. Make a list of ten questions you would like to ask any important political leader of your choice.
8. Read the article 'Space Rocks!' 'We set off at dawn on our adventure to find a meteorite'. Complete the story in your own words.
9. Read the article 'Whale of a Move'. In your opinion, where should Toki be relocated to? Why do you think so?
10. What was your favourite news story in this month's TPP? Why?
